COURTESY

hath a charm to be remembered and the strength of a strong arm.

Copyright, 1910, Walker-Longfellow Co., Boston

To all who may use this little book; to all customers and friends; all members of trades, crafts and professions; to men of business; to buyers and sellers and to all friends everywhere, these pages are offered for use and comfortable jotting down of sundry things against days of forgetting.

And therefore these pages are dedicated to odd facts and stray thoughts; to what is to be done; to what has been agreed upon or promised, and to what may prove useful.

And this little book will be glad if the comfort and convenience of its leaves be very speedily proven to the satisfaction of all good people, customers and friends aforesaid.

GOOD RULES FOR BUSINESS MEN.

Don't worry; don't overbuy; don't go security.

Keep a high vitality; keep insured; keep sober; keep cool.

Stick to chosen pursuits, but not to chosen methods.

Be content with small beginnings and develop them.

Be wary of dealing with unsuccessful men.

Be cautious, but when a bargain is made stick to it.

Keep down expenses, but don't be stingy.

Make friends, but not favorites.

Don't take new risks to retrieve old losses.

Stop a bad account at once.

Make plans ahead, but don't make them in cast iron.

Don't tell what you are going to do until you have done it.
